UNT President to address Rotary

V. Lane Rawlins began his term as president of the University of North Texas on May 14, 2010.

Now in his third public university presidency, President Rawlins brings to UNT a proven track record of success in elevating the quality and image of the universities he has served. Throughout his career, President Rawlins has remained committed to maintaining strong connections between world-class research and top-quality undergraduate education. He also is dedicated to upholding the mission of public universities to provide the best education possible to students of all backgrounds.

During President Rawlins' tenure, he will guide UNT in its quest to become a major research university. Founded in 1890 as a teacher's training institute, UNT is now an emerging public research university with enhanced programs for research and scholarship, new infrastructure and increased opportunities for faculty and students. As Texas' fourth largest university, UNT offers nearly 250 degree programs in 12 colleges and schools, and is one of the most comprehensive universities in the Dallas-Fort Worth region.

The U.S. News & World Report America's Best Colleges 2010 guide named UNT as one of the top national universities that are "leading the pack" in innovative changes, making it the only Texas public university on the list.

President Rawlins is helping to launch the university's strategic plan for research, relying on his experience in leading Washington State University during its quest to be designated a top-tier research university while it substantially grew its research funding. As president of WSU from 2000 to 2007, Rawlins led the creation of a strategic plan that guided the university's drive for educational and research excellence. His leadership also resulted in increased enrollment of academically talented students; a more diverse student body; and a stronger statewide presence while still supporting the needs of its multiple campus locations.

President Rawlins earned his Ph.D. in economics from the University of California, Berkeley and his B.S. in economics from Brigham Young University. He has focused much of his research on labor economics (especially the effects of education on earnings in people's lives) and public policy.

President Rawlins is a native of southeast Idaho. He and his wife, Mary Jo, have three children and 11 grandchildren.

Why I joined Rotary, Part 2

Jim Nalley

To give back to the community and assist other individuals using the knowledge I have gained through my years as an Army officer and business owner.

Jerry Holbert

Initially, back in the mid-90's, I was attracted to the business and social contacts afforded by membership in Rotary. After a few years, I came to appreciate the value of the many ways that Rotary seeks to improve lives around the world. As I've traveled, I've attended Rotary meetings in Japan, Spain, Australia and France – always welcomed as a colleague and equal – and have been impressed by the high regard associated with Rotary around the globe.

Kevin Henson

I moved to Denton two years ago to become Executive Director of the Cumberland Presbyterian children's Home, and I wanted to get involved in Community service. In my role as Executive Director, I have had the opportunity to speak to many different community groups and service organizations, including Rotary. All of these organizations have strong community service Ideals: however, I decided to wait until I finished my doctoral work last November before I would apply to one of them. Therefore, when Jack Thomson invited me to this particular Rotary meeting, I was very interested in learning about Rotary. I paid close attention to the details of the meeting. The Rotary Motto, Service Above Self, was the deciding factor for me. This motto articulates how I have tried to live my life, so I was enthusiastic about meeting and serving with people who have the same goal.
