RI President's Welcome Address Ray Klingensmith, 2010-11 RI President

New Orleans, Louisiana, USA

22 May 2011

Bill Gates, a founder of Microsoft, will be here on Tuesday afternoon to discuss his foundation's assistance to help us eradicate polio, and we have many other excellent speakers as well. There are five sessions of workshops on Rotary topics to help your clubs become bigger, better, and bolder, and I hope you will take advantage of the ideas that will be provided to continue our efforts to make the world a better place by Building Communities — Bridging Continents.

Rotarians ask me occasionally why I have two themes, when other presidents have utilized only one, and my answer is simple. My theme for this year is to highlight what Rotary clubs do best around the world, which is Building Communities — Bridging Continents. My appeal to make Rotary even better by helping our clubs to be "bigger, better, and bolder" is merely a slogan. Which is convincing proof that I am a lawyer, and that I am willing to make meaningless distinctions to prove a point!

As many of you know, I am truly proud to be a former Rotary Scholar and thereby a product of The Rotary Foundation. I joined Rotary about two weeks after returning to Unionville from my year of study at the University of Cape Town, South Africa, and I attended my first Rotary convention in St. Louis in 1963. I have attended many Rotary conventions since that time, and there is one aspect of Rotary conventions that I want to emphasize to those of you attending your very first convention. These wonderful assemblies are marked by an incredible atmosphere of fellowship, friendship, and networking that is rarely found outside of Rotary!

You do not need an introduction to talk with other people here! You are free to converse with anyone and everyone, and as your conversations continue, the usual exchange of names and business cards will occur somewhere along the line. And regardless of where you are from, you will eventually meet someone who can help you with a project or who knows someone you know. It is difficult to believe, but it's true! That is the magic and the power of the Rotary network!

Let me give you a personal example. Judie and I attended the first Birmingham [England] convention in 1984, and as we moved into some empty chairs at a table in the House of Friendship, we introduced ourselves to a Rotarian and his wife from Sweden. When the Swedish couple moved on, a Rotarian from Michigan at the next table said to us, "I heard you say that you are from Missouri. Have you ever heard of the small town of Unionville?" Well, as you learned in my earlier remarks, I was born and reared in Unionville. As it turned out, the Rotarian couple at the next table had spent their childhoods in the same area of my home county where the families of the Klingensmith clan had lived and farmed for almost a century, and they knew several of my relatives! What a small world it is through the network of Rotary!

So my request is for you to greet everyone and to talk with as many people as you can during this convention. You will be astounded by the friendliness and helpfulness of the Rotarians and their guests, and it takes no introduction to get started. All of us have stories to tell, and many of our stories are about the successful service projects in our clubs and districts. So let's get on with the show! This is going to be a great convention, and I want all of you to enjoy it as we exchange ideas about helping our clubs to become bigger, better, and bolder.

We are making the world a better place, and we have so much to be proud of as Rotarians. We are now on the world stage due to PolioPlus, and there is little doubt in my mind that the best days of Rotary are still ahead. So let's celebrate Rotary this week while we are here together in this special place! After all, that's cowboy logic!
